Profile | I am extremely hard working, highly motivated and creative in all aspects of design. I am very meticulous when it comes to detail and take my time to ensure every finished piece of work is of the highest possible standard. I commit myself fully to every project on which I work and remain focused and enthusiastic throughout the process in a sometimes highly-pressured environment with quick turnarounds.

I enjoy working as part of a team and am definitely not one to sit back and let everyone else do the work.

I graduated from the University for the Creative Arts in 2005 and I have been working for the digital department of M&C Saatchi for the past four years. Here I have had the pleasure of working on projects for the BBC, bmi, the DSGi group, Foster's, Heinz, ITV, Jameson, MINI, RBS and Transport for London.

For the next phase of my career I am looking to enhance my skills even further, and develop my techniques in both web and print.

Education | 2002-2005
The Surrey Institute of Art & Design University College
BA (Hons) Graphic Design, 2:1

2000-2001
Middlesex University
Diploma in Foundation Studies in Art & Design, Pass

1998-2000
The Champion School, Hornchurch
Advanced Levels in Art & Design, Ancient History and French

Employment History | 2006-present
M&C Saatchi
My roles here include developing visual concepts and final designs for a range of flash banners, websites, digital outdoor units and DEPs, and I have also helped develop a set of online brand guidelines for NatWest. Also mentoring and guiding more junior team members and interns, and overseeing their work.

2000-present
Freelance
In order that I am well versed with print as well as digital design I undertake freelance projects in my own time. Through this I have worked for a range of companies, mainly amateur dramatic, to produce for them identities and artwork for their theatrical productions on a selection of printed materials including posters, leaflets, programmes and souvenir brochures.
